Pug | Lilly

WRINKLES ARE A GOOD LESSON IN USING SHADOWS and highlights to create depth. Pugs also have large and expressive eyes, which means that you're able to fill them in with a lot of detail. This pattern was stitched on Kona Cotton in the color Peony.

- 4 Use 310, 3799, 535, 04, and 03 to stitch the nose.

tip To see a more in-depth look at the pug's nose and eyes, see Thread Painting Facial Features (page 45).

STEP 4

- 5 Stitch the top of the nose and the edges of the snout with 07, 08, 842, 535, and 3864. Use small stitches here.

STEP 5

- 6 Fill in the eyes with 318, 310, BLANC, 938, 3371, 801, and 3862, and make a small stitch of 3861 in the tear duct on the right eye.

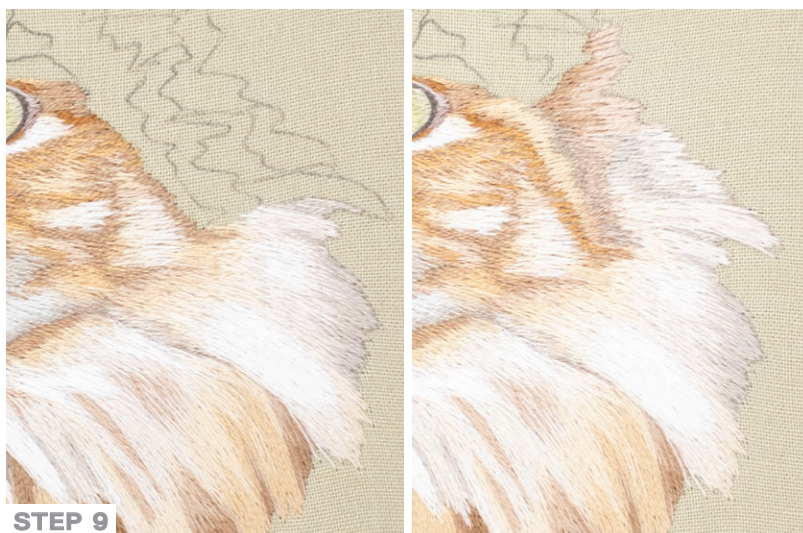

STEP 6

- 8 Stitch the left side of the face using 437, 438, 739, 3866, and 3863, using 436, 453, and 434 for the stripes. Do the same with the right side of the face. Add a few stitches of 3862 and 801 in the dark area below the tear duct.

tip See Stripes and Speckled Fur (page 41), for directions on the method of stitching tabby stripes.

- 9 Fill in the right side of the neck fur with 3864, 738, 739, 3866, 648, and BLANC. Continue working up the side of the face with 07, 738, 3864, 3863, 648, 739, and 842. Add a few top stitches of BLANC near the outer edge of the fur.

- 10 To make the ears, first stitch the outer edge of the ear with 3866 and 842. Use 8364 along the edge of the inside of the ear. Start filling in the inside of the ear with 452 and 453. Use 648, 02, 07, and BLANC to fill in the inner ear hairs, extending them out past the edge of the ear for a fluffy look. Do the same to the left ear.

Poodle Mix | Jude

CURLY FUR CAN BE QUITE OVERWHELMING AT FIRST, but you can break it down into manageable sections. Work from the back to the front (meaning stitch the darker areas first and work your way to the foreground with lighter colors) and follow the stitch-direction guidelines. For a guide on stitching curls and waves, see Thread Painting Curves and Curls (page 40). The poodle pattern is quite possibly the most challenging one in the book, so take it slow and work on it curl by curl. This pattern was stitched on off-white cotton twill.
